Louisville, Colo. (December 4, 2009) – MyChelle Dermaceuticals is more than just a product; it's a way of life, a lifestyle. Conscious consumers seek out creative ways to lighten their footprint on the earth, from solar energy, to recycling, to smart purchases. Those values perfectly align with MyChelle Dermaceuticals's vision and the company's conscious approach to introducing effective, natural skin care products that have a low impact on the earth and uphold the highest quality standards in ingredients and manufacturing.

As part of the 6 Faces of MyChelle Dermaceuticals Ambassador Contest, the company invited women and men to share their amazing stories of skin care success with MyChelle Dermaceuticals products, and why a natural lifestyle is an integral part of their life. MyChelle users responded enthusiastically sending in numerous entries that detailed incredible skin care success stories and real-life accomplishments and triumphs.

"We were so inspired and encouraged by all the incredible stories that we received," said Myra Eby, founder of MyChelle Dermaceuticals. "We are thrilled to share their truly moving and uplifting life stories."
